The Flamingo Cafe On U. S. Highway 90 Burglarized Thursday

Deputy Sheriff Leonard Ladner reported the Flamingo Cafe on U. S. Highway 90 was burglarized early last Thursday.

The officer said the cafe was entered through the front door and an estimated $15 was taken from the cash register and approximately $50 from a rear storeroom.

The establishment was entered sometime after 1:30 a. m. Thursday when the owners closed the business and entry was discovered about 10 a. m. the deputy added.

Evidence at the scene indicated the thieves were frightened off before they completed ransacking the building. A quantity of change was found scattered in the area of the cash register, the officer concluded.

Methodist Church News
Rev. James Spitzkeit, Methodist missionary on furlough from Korea, will bring the message at the 11 A. M. worship Sunday, January 10, at the Main Street Methodist Church.

Temporarily, Rev. Spitzkeit and family are at home in Mississippi City.

The Methodist Church is presently celebrating the 175th Anniversary of American Methodism. In 1794, at the Christmas Conference in Lovely Lane Chapel, Baltimore, Md., under Bishop Francis Asbury, the Methodist Church was officially organized in America.

Bishop Marvin A. Franklin, of the Jackson-Miss. area, is also Chairman of the Council of Bishops of the Methodist Church.

The local Methodist Church was organized about 1832 and was served at first by the minister who lived at Gardendale.

When he is sent to an Air Force base in Spain, he is followed first by the bride, then by the Lincoln Futura, and both provide hilarious complications. Showgirl Magazine, who had impulsively married Joe after a whirlwind courtship, what she really was after, a millionaire, now begins to regret her impulsive action and insists that her marriage be given a month's trial on a platonic basis. And it seems the glamorous Lincoln Futura is going to set Joe back exactly $17,500 in taxes.

How Joe solves both his problems, with the added complication of a dashing Spanish bullfighter who admires both the car and Joe's wife, makes for a story that starts out not only with a kiss but a howling series of laughs and ends in a mad marital mix-up of bedrooms and beds.

One night as he finished a late sports broadcast he had to fill in for a disc jockey who failed to show. He grabbed a stack of records, and the engineer told him which ones were popular. The sponsor liked him, and he got the position.

He played only R & B records on his show, although he christened the style "Rock and Roll" to avoid the racial stigma of the classification.

In March 1952 Freed decided to cash in on the success of his new music by staging a rock 'n' roll Moondog Ball in the Cleveland Arena, which has a capacity of 10,000. 30,000 persons showed up, crashing the doors down, and the show had to be called off.

In 1954 New York beckoned as he accepted the offer of WINS to put Rock and Roll on that city's airways. He was an immediate success but "Moondog," a Times Square character, enjoined Freed from using the name on the show. So the program became simply "Rock and Roll" Party. In January 1955 Freed threw two rock and roll dances at the Turn of the Century, making a turning point in the acceptance of Rock and Roll, which became the national (though still controversial) household word it is today.

LARGE TURNOUT FOR CHARTER MEETING

A large crowd of 125 people from all over the State of Mississippi were present at the Charter night banquet of the newly formed Bay Saint Louis Junior Chamber of Commerce. The program was highlighted with the main address and Charter presentation by Charlie Crumley, Mississippi State Jaycee President. Mike Haas, local President, accepted the Charter on behalf of 51 Charter members of the Bay Saint Louis Jaycees.

Crumley's topic for his main address was "Your Future in the Junior Chamber" of Commerce, which he outlined how the Junior Chamber of Commerce can help the individual and the community. He emphasized that one of the main purposes of the Jaycees movement is to promote leadership and self-improvement in order to create prosperity through the accomplishment of community development.

Haas presented messages from Gov. Elbert Ross Barnett and Secretary of State, Heber Laddner, which expressed regret that they were unable to attend, and extended congratulations and assurance of cooperation. A message from the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce expressed congratulations and pledged cooperation for the advancement and betterment of the community.

The group was honored with the presence of several state Jaycee officers, which included Dudley Lacey, Executive Vice President, Jackson; Levoth Haigler, Pascagoula and Bill Welch, Gulfport, National Directors; George Garner, Meridian, and John Pagan, Area Vice Presidents, and Mike Cantwell, Tyler, International Director.

The Mayor of the Town of Gulfport, Garfield Laddner, welcomed the group and assured the Jaycees that any industry which might establish in the Town of Gulfport would be given 10 years exemption. George Heitzmann, newly elected Tax Assessor of Hancock County, welcomed the group on behalf of the County.

Mayor John A. Scaffide of the City of Bay St. Louis was unable to attend due to being hospitalized. Mike Haas, local president, was installed and presented his presidential pin by Charlie Crumley, which Levoth Haigler chartered the newly elected officers with their duties and obligations of their office. In his closing remarks, Haas recognized the contributions of the Gulfport Extension team, headed by Robert Woodall, in addition to the contributions by the Chapters of Bay Springs, Pascagoula and
